

Sweet Setup for Saving Time

Brady Workstation Patch Panel App

Life is too short for redundant work — free up your time by adding the Brady Workstation Patch Panel App to your Brady printing solution.

This datacom-designed software allows you to create your patch panel labels for any panel configuration under the sun, and save the layout so you don't have to start from scratch on your future projects. With simple panel setup options, you reduce time wasted on clumsy trial-and-error measuring. And, hook up two printers to your computer, and print your patch panel and associated cable labels simultaneously.

The benefits don't end there — you can also:

- Reduce labor — replicate data from your patch panel labels to your cable labels and get double the labels for half the work
- Create your labels in the office, and either email them to field technicians or save them to the cloud and print through the Brady Workstation Express Labels Mobile App
- Get your data easily by creating a sequence, importing from an external file or manually entering it
